

Preliminary Call for Papers

12th Italian Conference on Theoretical Computer Science (ICTCS 2010) Camerino, Italy, September 15-17, 2010

<http://www.cs.unicam.it/ictcs2010>

ICTCS 2010 provides a forum for the exchange of ideas among researchers, and it aims to foster an environment, where junior researchers and PhD students can gain experience in presenting their work, broaden their views on the subject, and benefit from contact with more established researchers. Also researchers from outside Italy are welcome to submit papers and attend the Conference.

The Scientific and Organizing Committee welcomes contributions in any area of Theoretical Computer Science. These contributions could describe

- original works, that the authors may want to submit to a post-conference special issue;
- original works submitted or accepted somewhere else, that the authors wish to publicize at ICTCS;
- works in progress, on which the authors wish to get feedback at ICTCS.

Invited speakers:

Marco Bernardo (Univ. di Urbino)
Stefano Crespi-Reghizzi (Poli. di Milano)
Rossella Petreschi (Sapienza Univ. di Roma)

Important Dates:

Submission Deadline: May 20
Notification of Acceptance: June 20
Early registration deadline: July 30

Conference: September 15-17

Submissions:

Authors are invited to submit electronically an extended abstract (in pdf format), not exceeding four single spaced pages.

The Scientific and Organizing Committee is considering the publication of a postconference special issue in the Journal Theoretical Informatics and Applications. For additional information, please refer to the conference web page. Further queries concerning submissions for presentation at ICTCS or to the special issue can be sent to ictcs2010@easychair.org

ICTCS is hosted by Camerino University. Camerino is an historical town in the Center of Italy, known and respected since Roman times, which became particularly important in the middle-age. Camerino is located in hilly surroundings (Marche Region), between the spectacular Appennini mountains and the pleasant Adriatic coast.
